the UNITE Service Corps initiative is so important.”

“It’s been a great difference maker in our schools,” said assistant superintendent Steve Whitaker. “Drugs are in the homes. This is another way to help that situation. (AmeriCorps allows students) to have an understanding about drugs and to have someone to talk to when they see something happening.”

“There are so many advantages to having these people here,” said Highland principal Thom Cochran. “It’s amazing how many kids have no positive role models outside of the school. We have them for six and a half hours. You don’t know what they go home to.”

From 2004 through 2010, UNITE provided funding for in-school substance abuse counselors to provide anti-drug education and intervention services for youth and their families. At its peak, 35 counselors served 44 school systems.

“This initiative was really having a positive impact,” Kelly said. “Unfortunately, this effort became a victim of cuts in federal funding.”

“The AmeriCorps program has replenished the supply of good people to go into the schools,” Rogers told CNC’s Spencer. “You are a life saver.”

UNITE currently employs 44 full-time AmeriCorps members in 11 counties through its UNITE Service Corps.

Service Corps members teach the “Too Good for Drugs” and “Healthy Futures/Take 10” wellness curriculums, provide tutoring in math – with a resulting 36 percent increase in test scores for students served during the 2011-12 school year – coordinate anti-drug UNITE Clubs at each location, recruit volunteers for school prevention activities, and provide thousands of hours of volunteer service annually.

For the past two years, the UNITE Service Corps initiative has been honored with the “Governor’s Citation” for its excellent leadership and service by the Kentucky Commission on Community Volunteerism and Service (KCCVS).

“The UNITE Service Corps holds a special place in my heart,” commented KCCVS Executive Director Eileen Cackowski.

Several current and former AmeriCorps members spoke about the program’s value.

“It opened my eyes to see what students go through, not just here at school but in their home life,” said former member Ashley Conley. “You get to teach them, advocate for them, and be there for them.”

Eugene Newsome, Service Corps manager, noted that 4,751 disadvantaged youth were served between 2010-12. Of these, 862 youth had at least one parent incarcerated.

“The word ‘UNITE’ is associated with ‘help’,” said Amy Chapman, a Service Corps member serving Central Elementary.

Anna Burton, a Service Corps member at Meade Elementary, noted that the lessons taught with the “Too Good For Drugs” curriculum proved invaluable to the school’s Future Problem Solving team, which placed in international competition. “These kids had to use what we taught them and apply them” in their presentation, she said.

Former member George Salyers stressed the value of the community service component, noting the outpouring of support in the wake of the March tornadoes.

Over the past two years, Service Corps members have recruited 2,169 volunteers who provided 17,621 volunteer hours to their communities.

“You apply your skills that you learned in college every day,” said former member Tiffany Doderer, noting that experience helped her land a job in the classroom.

Earlier in the day, the school’s K-6 students were treated to an anti-drug program by Remix Education Entertainment.

“When you get tempted by a so-called friend (to use drugs) I want you to say, ‘Thank you, but I’m not interested’,” Rogers told the youth. “You can be whatever you want to be, but you gotta be drug-free.”

POWER: Thousands are without service after storm

Letcher County.

In most instances, snow-laden trees and tree branches, weakened by wet soil conditions had snapped and fallen across power lines and utility poles, leading to the majority of outage cases.

Kentucky Power restoration crews began work immediately Tuesday, assessing damage and making repairs to circuits affected by the storm, the release said. As of Tuesday afternoon, based on preliminary damage and outage estimates, company officials say it could be Friday afternoon before all customers affected by the storm are returned to service, although most customers will be returned to service well before then. The company is shifting restoration personnel from the company’s less affected areas to the Pikeville and Whitesburg areas, the hardest hit by Hurricane Sandy’s aftermath. The company will muster additional resources if necessary, according to the press release.

Company officials reported downed power lines and broken utility poles in several locations and cautioned Eastern Kentucky residents to never approach downed power lines. No matter how harmless a downed wire may appear, it should be considered energized and dangerous. Report all downed power lines to Kentucky Power at (800) 572-1113 or notify local emergency or law enforcement officials immediately. Never approach or touch anything that comes in contact with a downed power line.

ELECTION: Local races on next Tuesday's ballot

Michael did not seek re-election; and incumbent Barbara Lee Robinson and James (Jim) Shannon in District 5.

Candidates for the Louisa City Council include incumbents Gloria Johnson, Bradley Stark, Lisa Moore Schaeffer and Rita Frazer Rose along with Charles Nick Robinette, Ernie Francis, Raymond Dixon, Tom Parsons, Judy Jackson, Franklin Gilliam and Melodie Hackney.

No candidates filed for the four-member Blaine City Commission, meaning Mayor Geneva Wheeler will be the only elected official when the city begins its new term in January. It will be up to Wheeler to start the process to select new city commission members, according to a Kentucky League of Cities representative.

"If no one is elected to serve on the commission then the Mayor has the power to appoint commissioners after Jan 1, 2013," Robin Cooper, the KLC's chief member services officer, said in an e-mail. "Once she appoints one then the two of them must agree on the next one. Then the three of them would approve the next one and so on. There has to be at least two commissioners and the Mayor to conduct a legal meeting. She has 30 days to make the appointments."

If the mayor hasn't completed the process within 30 days, the governor would make the appointments, Cooper said.

"If no one agrees to serve and there is not a legal commission then the city goes dormant and though it remains an incorporated entity it cannot conduct business or take any actions," Cooper said. "There are some small cities where this has happened but most of them are more like neighborhood associations located in the suburbs of Jefferson County."

In Johnson County, three Johnson County Board of Education seats are on next Tuesday's ballot, but only one is contested as current members Bob Hutchison in District 3 and Melvin VanHoose in District 5 are unopposed.

Three candidates are seeking the District 2 board seat to succeed Melinda Johnson, who did not file for re-election. Candidates are Kirby Bowling, William R. Fraley and Dave Kretzer.

Three candidates are running for two spots on the Paintsville Independent Board of Education. They include incumbent Eddie R. Cornett along with Eddie Hazelett and Matt Williams. Incumbent Denise Preece, whose seat is also up for election, did not seek another term.

Twelve people are seeking the six seats up for election on the Paintsville City Council. Candidates include incumbents Jim Meek, Fran Jarrell, David "Coach" VanHoose, Rick Roberts and Mark McKenzie along with William "Gene" Castle, Edsel Preece, Jimmy Wright, Bill Mike Runyon, Tim Hall, James Tommy Trimble and Sara Hopson Blair.

In Floyd County, school board members Jeff Stumbo in District 3, Rhonda Turner Meade in District 4 and Sherry Sue Dingus Robinson in District 5 are unopposed for another term.

Fifteen candidates are seeking seats on the eight-member Prestonsburg City Council, including incumbents Roy Roberts, B.D. Nunnery, Timothy C. Cooley, Bob Carpenter Sr., David Gearheart, Don Willis and Freddie (Munroe) Goble and Harry A. Adams, along with Brent N. Graden, Adam Williamson, Cliff Latta III, Lloyd "Les" Stapleton, Timothy Vandine, Benji Ferguson and Carolyn Ford.

City commission candidates in Martin include incumbents Judy Stumbo, Mahendra Varia, April Gayheart, Eulene Ratliff and Bobby Sherman Dingus along with Shanna Howell, Charles E. Justice and James "Jim" Reynolds.

Candidates for the Allen City Commission are Pauline Bentley, Deborah Porter Lumpkins, Jessica Woods Crumpler, Clyde Woods and Elmer Parsons.

Incumbents Kathy Mills, Angela MacElhose, Terri Howell and Linda Spurlock filed for the four seats up for grabs on the Wayland City Commission.

Nine candidates are on the ballot for the four-seat Wheelwright City Commission, including incumbents Vernon Smallwood and Don "Booty" Hall, along with Rodney Hall, Sam Little, Lucille Tackett, Bobby Wayne Akers, Raymond C. Ferrell, David Marlee Sammons and Russell Hall.

Two Martin County school board members face opposition while a third is unopposed.

Current member Kim Meek is being challenged by Roger Harless in District 3, and incumbent Clifford Keener faces Kendra "Nikki" Williamson and Gary Ball in District 4. Incumbent Kathleen Price is unopposed in District 5.

Candidates for the four-member Inez City Commission include the four incumbents: Floyd Jude, Dwayne Timothy Preece, Chris Maynard and Ronnie Hickman.

Five candidates are seeking election to the four-member Warfield City Commission, including incumbents Zane Speer, Karen Dalton, Tammy Booth and Thomas Evans along with Dollie Adkins.

Two contested state legislative races are on the ballot.

State Sen. Walter Blevins of West Liberty, whose 27th District includes Lawrence County, faces Republican Tony Downey of Ashland.

In the 97th House Seat, which includes Johnson, Martin and parts of Floyd and Pike counties, Democratic incumbent Hubert Collins of Wittensville is challenged by Republican Bobby Wayne McCool of Van Lear.

Two region-wide races are also on next Tuesday's ballot—for the 5th Congressional District's U.S. House seat and for the 7th District Kentucky Supreme Court seat.

Republican U.S. Rep. Harold "Hal" Rogers of Somerset faces a rematch in the 5th Congressional District with Democrat Kenneth S. Stepp of Manchester, whom the incumbent easily defeated in the 2008 election.

Another rematch is taking place in the race for the state Supreme Court in the 7th District, where incumbent Will T. Scott of Pikeville is being challenged by former Justice and current Court of Appeals Judge Janet Stumbo of Van Lear.

The two faced off for the nonpartisan seat in 2004 when Stumbo was the incumbent, with Scott narrowly winning the general election. Stumbo went on to be elected to one of the 7th District's two Court of Appeals positions.

Numerous candidates in the Big Sandy region are unopposed in the general election, including 10 incumbents. They include State Sens. Johnny Ray Turner of Prestonsburg and Ray S. Jones of Pikeville; state Reps. Greg Stumbo of Prestonsburg and Rocky Adkins of Sandy Hook; Commonwealth's Attorneys Anna Deskins Melvin in the 24th Judicial Circuit and Brent Turner in the 31st District; District Judge Jimmy "Blue" Marcum in the 31st District; and Circuit Court Clerks Jodi Parsley in Lawrence County, Doug Hall in Floyd County and Jack Horn in Martin County.

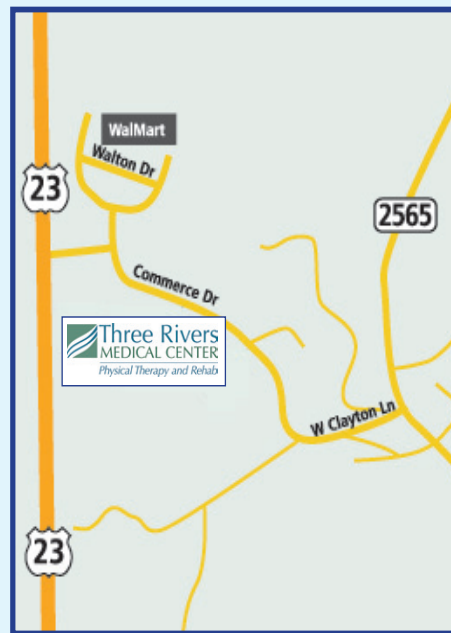

In Johnson County, Penny Adams, who won the Republican primary for circuit court clerk, faces no Democratic candidate. She will succeed Vicki Rice, who did not seek another term.

Also on Tuesday's ballot is a constitutional amendment concerning gun rights. The ballot question states: "Are you in favor of amending the Kentucky constitution to state that the citizens of Kentucky have the personal right to hunt, fish, and harvest wildlife, subject to laws and regulations that promote conservation and preserve the future of hunting and fishing, and to state that public hunting and fishing shall be a preferred means of managing and controlling wildlife?"

PAINTSVILLE — Johnson County's annual Veterans Day ceremony honoring all military veterans will be Friday, Nov. 9, at 11:30 a.m. in the second-floor courtroom of the Johnson County Courthouse on Court Street in Paintsville.

Judge-Executive Tucker Daniel said the fiscal court hosts the event each year to "recognize the sacrifice veterans are making today as well as those who have proudly served this country in the past."

Daniel said veterans from all branches of service and the public are urged to attend the ceremony.

The program will include patriotic music by school groups and other individuals.

In addition, Paintsville Elementary School is hosting a free lunch for veterans following the ceremony. Lunch reservations should be made with the school by calling 789-2651.

Project blacktops 26 roads in Johnson Co.

BSN Staff Report

PAINTSVILLE — A project to blacktop 26 Johnson County roads has been completed “before the start of bad weather which should improve public safety on those roadways this winter and into the future,” Johnson County Judge-Executive Tucker Daniel said in a press release. The project was “all paid for,” the release said, and $234,000 from Gov. Steve Beshear’s “flex-funding account was a “big help.” But $566,000 of the project came from the county budget and was approved by Commissioners Kathy Adams, Paul Daniel and Darren Gamble, the release said.

“The people of Johnson County are fortunate indeed to have three commissioners who are fiscally responsible and have the vision to plan ahead in order to accomplish a project of this size,” Judge Daniel said. “There are few counties in Kentucky that can come up with more than one-half million dollars in these bad economic times, and I appreciate the commissioners for their stewardship of the public’s money.

ing withdrawals, $16,500 in restaurant charges, $4,600 in shopping gift cards from one store and $839 on fireworks,” the audit said. “The exam found the former assistant chief purchased a vehicle with department funds and opened a store credit card in the department’s name without authorization from the board. Two flat-screen televisions, a laptop computer, digital camera, personal care items, alcohol, chewing tobacco and purchases made-out-of-state were charged to the card and paid for with department funds. All the electronics are missing.”

The audit says that from Jan. 1, 2006, through February of this year, the department incurred over $14,784 in restaurant charges on its debit card. The district, from Oct. 27, 2007, through May 2009, after which the credit card was terminated, incurred an additional $1,726 in restaurant charges, bringing the total over the six-year period to $16,500. Restaurant charges identified through the bank and credit card statements ranged in amount from $1.58 to $183.02 per transaction.

“Time and again my office finds lack of proper board oversight is the real culprit when taxpayer dollars are abused,” Edelen said. “I applaud the Garrett fire district board for coming forward with its concerns and implore those who serve on boards, from big school districts to tiny fire districts, to know their responsibilities and take them seriously.”

The exam found the former assistant chief paid himself more than $8,000 without approval. On at least three occasions, payments made to the district or department totaling $4,000 were not deposited, the audit said.

“Over 800 pornographic videos were found on a department computer, external drive and USB drive,” the audit report said.

According to the audit, the former assistant chief/treasurer had a district-owned desktop computer, external drive, and USB thumb drive at his residence, and 890 pornographic videos were saved to the devices.

Through a forensic analysis of the devices, auditors discovered hundreds of explicit pornographic pages, videos and images saved to the devices and over 290 of the videos were available on the hard drive of the desktop computer. The external drive contained over 580 pornographic videos and approximately 125 graphic images, the audit said.

Also, approximately 10 adult videos were saved to the USB thumb drive, along with a Harlequin romance novel, the audit.

False financial reporting was provided to the district board and department, and various financial records were missing, according to the audit. The district also did not obtain required financial statement audits or submit required financial reports to the state Department for Local Government or Internal Revenue Service. As a result, it lost its tax-exempt status, the audit said.

Board chairman Danny O’Quinn said in response to the findings that as the newly elected board chairman, he could see the organization had some major problems and that the district and board members would work diligently to put into place all the recommended findings suggested by the auditor.

The complete 75-page audit can be viewed at <http://auditor.ky.gov>.

FORUM: Regional event raises funds for drug efforts

to be eliminated,” Beshear said.

Beshear also noted that the number of accounts utilizing the Kentucky All Schedule Prescription Electronic Reporting (KASPER) system has tripled with medical prescribers requesting nearly 20,000 reports per day – with about 90 percent being answered “in less than 15 seconds.”

While drug use in Kentucky is dropping, it is still at unacceptable levels. Beshear said last year there were 219 million doses of Hydrocodone prescribed in the state. “That is 51 doses for every man, woman and child living in Kentucky.”

Regarding criticism that the new legislation might be putting unnecessary burdens on doctors and hindering proper patient care, Beshear was steadfast.

“Any legitimate doctor has nothing to fear,” Beshear added. “The doctors themselves wrote the legislation.”

Each of the panel members acknowledged that there are a few areas of the bill that may need to be “tweaked,” but Beshear was adamant that “we are not going back to where we had a prescription drug playground.”

Stivers said lawmakers need to “forget the political consequences” when crafting reasonable solutions.

“Not on my watch are we going to regress to where we were,” he said.

“Parts of (House Bill 1) may be a nuisance, but it is essential to protect the citizens,” Stumbo agreed. “It will take constant vigil.”

There was also consensus on the holistic approach to substance abuse – arresting dealers, providing treatment, helping in recovery, and educating the public – especially youth, who are the “unintended victims” of drug use.

Kentucky First Lady Jane Beshear, who sits on the board for Recovery Kentucky, said our prescription drug epidemic was “worse than most other states.” She noted that Kentucky has a higher incidence of drug use than the U.S. average “for every single age group.

“These statistics are shocking and disheartening,” Jane Beshear said. “People are looking for help.”

The forum also included the presentation of a $100,000 check to UNITE from Kentucky River Properties. This was the fourth installment of a five-year pledge, targeted to treatment vouchers and Drug Court programs in the region.

Communities

For medical bills, inventions and more, regular folks are raising big money online

by Kim Komando

Kim Komando hosts the nation's largest talk radio show about consumer electronics, computers and the Internet.

Nicholas Ivie, a U.S. Border Patrol agent stationed in Arizona, was tragically killed recently while on duty.

Billy Sanders, who worked with Ivie at the Naco station, turned to online fundraising to help Ivie's wife and two daughters. His Web page on GoFundMe raised nearly $30,000 in a few weeks and is well on its way to a $100,000 goal.

Raising money online, or crowdfunding, is the new model for everything from music albums to video game consoles.

Last year, crowdfunding platforms helped artists, entrepreneurs and companies raise about $1.5 billion. Fundraising sites will probably double that number by the end of this year.

Some crowdfunding campaigns make headlines periodically by raising jaw-dropping amounts of money. For example, OUYA, an Android-powered gaming console, recently raised more than $2 million its first day on Kickstarter and $8.6 million overall.

Thanks to crowdfunding sites like GoFundMe, however, it's easy for regular folks to ask for help funding mission trips or covering unexpected medical and funeral expenses.

You can create a free personal donation website at GoFundMe in just a few minutes. You can raise funds for just about anything - a creative project, a small business startup or a honeymoon trip.

It's a great place to bring in money for sports teams, schools, charities and volunteers. The site even raised $46,000 to provide shoes for America's tallest man!

Many people use GoFundMe to help friends and family members cover the cost of medical, veterinary and funeral expenses. One woman, for example, raised more than $134,000 for her brother's cancer treatment. The donation page for a wounded survivor of the Aurora, CO, shooting reached $140,000 in a day and is now approaching $200,000.

So how do you get started? First, you create a free donation page. This is an opportunity to tell your story.

Put some thought into explaining why you need the money and how much it means to you. You can easily share this page through email and social media to quickly spread the word.

GoFundMe has you set a fundraising goal, but unlike other sites you're under no obligation or time limit to meet the goal. Donations are transferred to you as they come in. Fundraisers aren't expected to give away freebies to backers.

GoFundMe does deduct a 5 percent fee from each donation you receive (4.25 percent for certified charities and nonprofits). Additionally, online credit card processor WePay will deduct 2.9 percent plus 30 cents per transaction. Your donors pay no fees and don't need to open any kind of account.

To guard against fraud, GoFundMe won't add a donation page to the search directory until it's reviewed and several conditions are met.

You must connect an authentic Facebook account to the GoFundMe donation page. Facebook accounts that have a low number of friends and no photos will be rejected.

Donation pages are also required to have a photo or

Life Line Screening slated for Nov. 13

LOUISA – Residents living in and around the Louisa community can be screened to reduce their risk of having a stroke or bone fracture.

St Jude Catholic Church will host Life Line Screening on Nov. 13. The site is located at 1121 Meadowbrook Lane in Louisa.

"I want to thank you for saving my life," said Beverly Reed of Benton, who attended a Life Line Screening.

Four key points every person needs to know:

- * Stroke is the third leading cause of death and a leading cause of permanent disability
- * 80 percent of stroke victims had no apparent warning signs prior to their stroke

- * Preventive ultrasound screenings can help you avoid a stroke

- * Screenings are fast, noninvasive, painless, affordable and convenient

Screenings identify potential cardiovascular conditions such as blocked arteries and irregular heart rhythm, abdominal aortic aneurysms, and hardening of the arteries in the legs, which is a strong predictor of heart disease. A bone density screening to assess osteoporosis risk is also offered and is appropriate for both men and women. Packages start at $149. All five screenings take 60-90 minutes to complete. For more information regarding the screenings or to schedule an appointment, call 1-877-237-1287 or visit its Web site at

Allen Central sweeps KVCA 15th Region honors

LEXINGTON — The Kentucky Volleyball Coaches Association (KVCA) has announced its sixth annual KVC Region Players and Region Coaches of the Year. All recipients of the KVCA yearly awards were honored at the 2012 KHSAA State Tournament at Valley High School in Louisville during ceremonies preceding the state championship match on Saturday, Oct. 27.

The tradition-rich Allen Central volleyball program swept the 15th Region awards. Allen Central senior Courtney Hodge was named the 15th Region Player of the Year. Her head coach, longtime Allen Central mentor Larry Maynard, claimed the 15th Region Coach of the Year award.

Allen Central fell to Greenwood in the opening round of the state volleyball tournament.

Southwestern mentor Skip Cottrell became the only coach to receive a third consecutive Region Coach of the Year award. Cottrell is this year's KVCA Region 12 Coach of the Year.

Corbin head coach Liberty Roberts is the Region 13 Coach of the Year for the second straight year.

Three players — Jessie Stone (Caldwell County), Erin Cottrell (Southwestern) and Vanessa Wisemen (Corgin) — received Region Player of the Year honors for the second consecutive season.

Honors were voted on by KVCA member coaches.

ALLEN CENTRAL SENIOR Courtney Hodge has claimed her second MaxPreps/AVCA Kentucky Player of the Week award.

Hodge earns 2nd POW honor

EASTERN — After leading the Allen Central Rebels to a second straight state volleyball tournament, senior setter/right side Courtney Hodge has been named the MaxPreps/AVCA Kentucky High School Volleyball Player of the Week for the week of Oct. 22-28.

The weekly MaxPreps/AVCA award is Hodge's second this season.

Hodge delivered 44 assists (8.8 apg), 11 digs, three kills and two blocks for Allen Central (33-6) in its state tournament match.

Hodge is this year's Kentucky Volleyball Coaches Association 15th Region Player of the Year. Veteran ACHS head coach Larry Maynard is the KVCA 15th Region Coach of the Year.

The MaxPreps/AVCA High School Player of the Week Program is a partnership between the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) and CBS MaxPreps, Inc. Each week, MaxPreps and the AVCA recognize deserving student-athletes at the high school level who have demonstrated outstanding play on the court throughout the week of competition.

Allen Central ended the 2012 season 33-6 after winning both the 15th Region All "A" Classic and overall 15th Region titles.

Adkins inducted into MSU Athletic Hall of Fame

MOREHEAD — Three former Eagles, including the late Paintsville High School baseball coach Charlie Adkins, were formally inducted into the Morehead State Athletic Hall of Fame at a banquet on Friday night.

In addition to Adkins, the 2012 class includes golf stand-out Wes Martin and All-Ohio Valley Conference football tackle Ernie DeCourley.

The group was also be recognized on Saturday during Morehead State's homecoming football game against Pioneer Football League foe Campbell.

"The Athletic Hall of Fame is the highest individual accolade our department can award," MSU athletics director Brian Hutchinson said. "It's a pleasure to welcome these accomplished individuals to the prestigious list. In addition to being regarded among the elite individuals of their time, these three inductees were also members of OVC championship programs."

Adkins, a four-year letter-winner for Head Coach Rex

Chaney, recorded a 1.48 ERA in 1964, a MSU record that still stands today. He posted a 12-8 career record and led the Eagles with 55 strikeouts in 1965. He helped MSU win the 1963 and 1964 OVC East Division titles.

A native of Paintsville, he went on to an illustrious 34-year career as his hometown's head high school baseball coach. Adkins totaled 805 victories and led the Tigers to the state title in 1990. He retired from coaching in 2005 and died April 21, 2010.

Shepherd pitches well in UK fall scrimmage

LEXINGTON — A pair of strong starts from southpaws Dylan Dwyer and A.J. Reed highlighted a seven-inning Kentucky baseball fall scrimmage, a 3-0 Black win, on Friday afternoon at Cliff Hagan Stadium.

Dwyer and Reed dominated through the first four innings, with Dwyer tossing four shutout innings with two hits, two walks and two strikeouts. For Blue, Reed worked three shutout innings, allowing a pair of first-inning hits, without allowing a walk and striking out two. Sophomore right-hander Chandler Shepherd worked the final three innings for Blue, allowing only one earned run. Junior lefty Corey Littrell, a 2012 All-Southeastern Conference starter, hurled two shutout innings to end the scrimmage, allowing two hits and one walk, striking out two.

Black got all of its runs in the top of the fifth inning for the 3-0 win. Sophomore centerfielder Austin Cousino collected two hits, Max Kuhn singled and doubled, Zach Arnold added a RBI single, Jeff Boehm doubled and Dorian Hairston added two singles through the infield. Freshman catcher Greg Fettes also added a single.

Blue was led offensively by a three-hit game from junior outfielder Lucas Witt. Freshman infielder Thomas Weaver drew a walk, with freshman catcher Casey Schroeder adding a single through the left side and an infield knock in the sixth.

Black got on the board in the top of the fifth inning, as Kuhn led off with a double off the wall in left-centerfield. Thomas Bernal then chopped a grounder to the right side that went as an error on freshman second baseman Andrew Bryant, allowing Kuhn to take third and Bernal to advance to first. After a hard-hit
